Seventh War Loan Campaign Set for Start

Drive Will Open Here Monday, May 14, Last Through June 30

Antioch Township's Seventh War Loan drive will start May 14, and continue through June 30. Plans for the campaign are already prepared, Otto S. Klass, chairman for the drive, announced yesterday.

"The township's quota for E bonds is $60,000, and that for all other individual bond purchases is $25,000, bringing our total to $85,000," he announced.

"We can be proud that the past war loan drives here have been a decided success," he continues, "and we are sure that the township will go 'over the top' in a grand way on this Seventh War Loan drive."

"VE day has been observed. Yes, we can all be jubilant—but only to a certain extent.

At Half-Way Mark

"The half-way mark has been reached. The big job lies ahead. It will take money, and lots of it, to defeat Japan. Don't underestimate the big job that lies ahead. Let our object be our country, our whole country, and above all others our country. This is your country, just as your farm, your business or your shop is yours.

"Uncle Sam is not asking you to give, but to invest in your country's securities. I am sure that the people of this township are going to show by their response to the war loan drive that they are not going to let those boys down.

"The boys who hit the beaches where Nazis or Nips waited to mow them down knew that life for them would last only as long as the enemy guns missed. The least that we can do is to be in there pitching, with the best we have.

"Antioch township is proud to do what it can to aid the war effort. Let's keep up the good work and put this Seventh War Loan drive away over the top!

"We shall need the help of all of you. You can 'enlist' to do your part by calling Antioch 53-R, and application blanks for your pledge will be brought to you.

"Remember—we are having only two drives this year—let's take this opportunity to do our part now!"

Plan Processing Plant for Animal Food at Russell

Mink Ranchers are Interested in Post-War Possibilities

A packing or processing company specializing in animal food, particularly for mink, foxes and other animals raised for their pelts, is being planned under the auspices of the Great Lakes Mink association.

Russell has been selected as the site for the plant, to be constructed as soon as possible after the war. The nearest existing plant is in northern Wisconsin, and a larger one is located in Utah.

Because of the large number of mink farms and other fur farms in this area, it is believed that the project will be of great benefit to the local mink breeders.

I. J. Cermak, Zion has been engaged as manager of the plant. Bauer Mohr, Rochester, Wis., is president of the company; Don Lee is secretary and Richard Champlin, Russell, treasurer. Paul Sendar of Wadsworth is a director.

Present plans for the plant call for buildings of brick, tile and other fireproof materials, two stories in height and 70 by 150 feet, to be located on the west side of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad tracks at the south edge of Russell. It is estimated that the plant will require from 10 to 15 full time employees.

Local Department Will Entertain Co. Firemen

The Antioch Fire department will be host to the Lake County Firemen's association at its June meeting, it was announced at a business meeting held by the local department Tuesday evening in the fire station.

A meeting of the Antioch Eastern Star chapter will be held this evening in the Masonic temple.

V-E Day is Quietly Observed in Antioch

V-E Day was a quiet Tuesday in Antioch, much quieter than many a local Sunday, with retail establishments, taverns and liquor stores closed, and industries and essential businesses operating.

Considerably more excitement was observable about the town Monday, when all businesses stayed open, but with their proprietors ready to close on a minute's notice, should V-E Day have been proclaimed then.

Since some of the local industries, such as Thordarson's, work on war contracts, and others, like the dairies, are prevented by the nature of their business from closing, these observed their usual workday.

Church services in prayerful observance of the day's significance helped to create the "Sunday" atmosphere.

A few private parties and celebrations brought a feeling of rejoicing, but in general the local reaction was one of thoughtfulness, and of consideration of the task that lies ahead in connection with the war with Japan.

CPL. ROGER KANE IS RELEASED FROM CAMP

A telephone call last Thursday evening from New York informed Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Kane, Mundelein, that their son, Cpl. Roger Kane, who was freed from a German prison camp several weeks ago, had arrived in this country.

Cpl. Kane, who said that he had gained back 48 pounds of the 75 he lost, was to have a final check-up at Gardiner General hospital before coming home.

He said that reports that he had been wounded in the head with shrapnel were in error. He received his head injuries when he tried to escape from camp and a German guard hit him over the head with a gun.

Col. Ray King Killed in Luzon Action Apr. 22

Former Antioch Man Led First Sqdn. of 8th Cavalry in Campaign

Friends of the Frank King family throughout the Antioch area were shocked to learn early this week of the death of their son, Lt. Col. F. Raymond King, in action on Luzon, April 22.

No details have as yet been received, according to letters received early this week by friends from the King family, who have for the past few years lived in Tucson, Ariz.

Col. King had been wounded in action earlier, and held the Purple Heart and Bronze Star awards. At the time of his death he commanded the first squadron of the Eighth Cavalry regiment, campaigning on Luzon.

Promoted Recently

The announcement of his promotion, published in the Antioch News for April 20, stated that it had been conferred "as the result of his leadership, initiative and ability."

Col. King attended Antioch Township High school and received a civil engineering degree from the University of Arizona in 1939, entering the army upon graduation.

He had been overseas since June 1943 and participated in the Admiralty Leyte island campaigns. He was in command of the first American troops to invade Samar, and on Luzon led his troops through the hard, bloody street fighting in Manila.

His wife, Mrs. Lois King, and their son Raymond, Jr., live in El Paso, Tex.

Also surviving in addition to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. King, are a brother, Robert, who managed the King drug store here for several years, and two sisters, Lois and Winnie, both of whom are married.

Lake Villa Club Cited for Fine Community Work

Services for Young People are Considered Outstanding Example

One of the most successful meetings of the Lake Villa Men's Community club has enjoyed to date was that held Tuesday evening in the Lake Villa Grade School gymnasium, with 75 present.

Following a roast pork dinner and the business session, Manager Palm of the American Coach company discussed the company's plans for improved bus service on the Antioch-Lake Villa-Waukegan line and the Antioch-Lake Villa-Chicago line.

James Stiles of the Abbott Laboratories, Lake county chairman of the U. S. treasury's war finance division, gave a talk on the approaching Seventh War Loan campaign and showed three reels of motion pictures on D-Day and on action at Saipan.

"Postwar Employment in Rural Areas" was the subject of an interesting talk by Richard J. Lyons, who gave suggestions for the setting up of committees for the study of the postwar employment situation, particularly with regard to the placement of returning veterans.

Commented by F. B. I.

President Dan S. Boyer called the attention of club members to the fact that the work the organization has been doing the past year on behalf of the young people in the community has earned commendation from the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and from a leading Chicago newspaper.

The letter from the F. B. I., bearing the signature of J. Edgar Hoover and addressed to Captain B. C. Hamlin of the Illinois State police, expresses the belief that the Lake Villa project may be an inspiration to other communities.

It reads, in part, as follows: "It has come to my attention that in your home community of Lake Villa, Illinois, a crime prevention program has been put into effect by the Men's Community club to prevent juvenile delinquency and that this has met with marked success."

"I was interested to learn that a car-enter shop was installed for the juveniles in order that they might make various small articles of furniture. It is felt that the experience of the Lake Villa Community would be of interest to other law enforcement agencies throughout the nation. The thought has occurred to me that you (continued on page 5)

Housewives! Attention!

Do you wish help in filling out your Canning Sugar Applications? If so—come to the village hall in Antioch between 10:00 a. m. and 4 p. m. on Wednesday May 16th—or the Ration Board, Lake Villa, Tuesday, May 22nd.

Blank applications will be furnished, but bring spare stamp No. 13 from War Ration Book 4 of each person for whom application is made.

Well—the brown-out's off again, the tavern lights are on again, and the horses can race to their hearts' content. In Antioch, which has observed the curfew and brown-out regulations pretty strictly, the lifting of the bans was received with singular calm. The same was true, apparently, of nearby localities. . . . Can it be that we don't take those things to heart so much as New York's Mayor La Guardia?

Meanwhile, the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois has circulated letters to its customers notifying them of the removal of display lighting restrictions, and adding—"Your cooperation in complying with the provisions of the brown-out order during the time it was in effect is appreciated."

Early receipt of Antioch village vehicle license stickers this year resulted in their early purchase by automobile owners, Clerk Roy L. Murrie announced this week. About 100 of the licenses had been purchased by May 1, the due date, he estimated. There are, however, still 300 automobile owners who have not as yet bought their stickers, Murrie adds.

Those patches of snow on the green grass, the blooming lilacs and apple trees, and the roofs of buildings looked mighty odd this a. m. . . sort of like a ballet dancer wrapped in a fluffy white woolen fascinator.

Members of the Antioch Boy Scouts have been circulating around the village picking up jars donated by housewives for the use of the Antioch American Legion post.

Signs of the times—Twenty-seven hundred surplus twin-engine Cessna cabin-monoplanes and 3700 Vultee single-engine basic instrument trainers have been placed on sale by the Reconstruction Finance corporation. They are available for immediate sale at the Robert Slamp Flying service, Ford-Lansing airport, Lansing, Mich., and Des Moines Flying service, Municipal airport, Des Moines, Ia.

Meat Shortage

As with everything else, so with the meat shortage—“There's a reason.”

In fact, there are several reasons, which are listed in some detail in an outline received by the Antioch-Lake Villa Township Rationing board from the Office of Price Administration.

The main reasons are enumerated as follows:

- (A) War demands for meat are heavy.
- (B) Meat supplies are limited.
- (C) Meat distribution is uneven.

With regard to wartime demands, the OPA comments—

“Military requirements are large and must be met. Men in our army and navy get an average of about 5½ pounds of meat a week—226 pounds a year. Many more American civilians are in the market for more meat because their incomes are higher than ever before. Our allies must be assured their minimum meat requirements for full fighting strength. People in liberated countries must not starve.”

Under “supply,” the OPA states that while “In 1944 meat production was 53 percent above the annual average production for the five years before the war... total meat production this year... is less than last... down about nine percent.”

Cattle production is up, says the OPA, but hog production is down, and, it is pointed out, pork and pork products make up about half of America's total meat supply.

“Farmers are taking immediate steps to increase hog production and the production of other meat animals,” is the reassurance given to meat-hungry consumers, BUT “increased hog production will not be available until next winter.”

Civilian meat distribution is admittedly uneven, says the OPA, with some areas having more than their “fair share” of the total meat supply and others less.

Meat from plants without federal inspection can be legally sold only within the state where this meat is processed, it is pointed out, hence the meat-producing states in general tend to have a larger proportionate share. The same tendency toward “congestion of supply” is true with regard to farm slaughter, since nearly all of this meat is either consumed by the farm families themselves or is sold to and consumed by civilians living near the farm where the slaughtering occurs. Since meat supplies for the armed forces and other shipments are drawn from the federally inspected sources, this would also cut into the amount available for shipment to non-meat-producing states.

“The black-market is also responsible to some extent for uneven distribution,” the OPA emphasizes.

Factors which, it is hoped, will bring about a more even distribution are listed by the OPA as the expansion of federal inspection of meat; increasing production goals and production incentives; widespread co-operation on the part of the public to make sure that fair rationing practices are observed. This last requires

“voluntary compliance with price and rationing rules by both buyers and sellers.”

This won't increase the total meat supply available to civilians, the OPA admits, but it “will make for fairer meat distribution.”

To which several million housewives will no doubt utter a hearty “amen!”

Nurse Kenny Visits Illinois

Quite a bit of interest has been focussed lately on Sister Elizabeth Kenny's visit to Illinois in response to an invitation from state leaders who are in favor of a more-widespread knowledge of her famous methods for the treatment of infantile paralysis cases.

Representative Nick Keller of Lake county is the sponsor of her appearance before the Illinois legislature. The impressive record made by the Kenny Institute in Minneapolis for the treatment of poliomyelitis, of which the Australian nurse is head, has aroused much admiration in this state.

Judged by their results, Nurse Kenny's methods, properly applied, seem to be highly effective in combating disastrous after-effects of the disease which has cast a shadow over the lives of many, and which may have indirectly helped to shorten the life of President Roosevelt.

As has always been the case in connection with new or revolutionary medical practices and discoveries, the medical profession itself is divided in its attitude toward the Kenny method of treatment.

If Sister Kenny's visit to Illinois is indirectly the means of bringing health and relief to any sufferers from infantile paralysis at some time in the near future, the interest taken by Rep. Keller, Governor Dwight Green and the members of the legislature will have served a most commendable purpose.

Do We Deserve Freedom?

“...nothing is more fatal than the present fashion among intellectual leaders of extolling security at the expense of freedom. It is essential that we should relearn frankly to face the fact that freedom can be had only at a price and that as individuals we must be prepared to make severe material sacrifices to preserve our liberty. If we want to retain this, we must regain the conviction on which the rule of liberty in the Anglo-Saxon countries has been based and which Benjamin Franklin expressed in a phrase applicable to us in our lives as individuals no less than as nations: ‘Those who would give up essential liberty to purchase a little temporary safety deserve neither liberty nor safety.’” —“The Road to Serfdom,” by Friedrich A. Hayek.

A Sure Test

Of one thing we can be certain, in spite of the accusations flying back and forth between government officials and food producers—the producers, being in the last analysis mostly independent farmers, will produce as long as there is a shadow of possible profit. When profits cease to exist, they must cease to operate because they do not have the capital to produce merely out of patriotism. Thus, as time goes on and specific items disappear from the market, you may be pretty certain that costs prohibit production. Once the immediate pressure of government purchases is relieved, this will be a sure test.

The Barker Bros. Lumber Co. are renovating and improving their grounds in this village. They have removed their old coal sheds to the east end of the yard and built a new shed; also built a storage warehouse for cement, stucco, building paper, salt, etc. When completed the yard will present a much better appearance.

The committee on fire protection of the village board has much to do. Antioch is increasing in new buildings and should have fire protection. Our experience in past years should teach us that at some day we will have a fire that our "bucket brigade" can't handle. Act, gentlemen, before it is too late.

Workers should notice every detail of construction when removing old upholstery—the finish used, the size of tacks and the method of sewing and tying the springs. It's wise also to make sure the wood in the frame is worth the time and money needed for the job.

Proclamation

Recognizing that protection of life, limb and property is the most fundamental responsibility of government and that the School Safety Patrols in this wartime year are rendering invaluable civic service in protecting school children from the hazards of heavy war-induced traffic, thereby helping our government greatly in this basic duty and thus enriching the community, I publicly proclaim Saturday, May 12, 1945, to be SCHOOL SAFETY PATROL DAY.

On behalf of the government and citizenry of this community, I commend these faithful volunteer civilian defenders. I urge all citizens to pause and pay due tribute to the boys and girls who are enrolled in school safety patrols and to give full cooperation in this valuable traffic safety effort. Only through public cooperation can the patrols be instrumental in saving lives and preventing accidents.

The patrols are rendering distinguished service in protecting our citizens of tomorrow from the traffic hazards of today.

True or False

Test your knowledge of your Government's War Bond Financing program. The answers to these questions, given at the end, should be known by every American. How good are you?

1. 85 million Americans have purchased Series E War Bonds.
2. 84% of all the money ever invested in E Bonds is still invested in them.
3. If a Bond is lost, stolen or destroyed, it is just the same as if the owner had lost the money he invested.
4. E Bonds may be cashed at any qualified bank for their full cost any time after 60 days from date of issue.
5. The U. S. Government's promise to redeem War Bonds any time after 60 days from date of issue is just as strong as its promise to stand back of a dollar bill.
6. You have to hold a Bond the full ten years to get any interest.
7. The lowest-priced War Bond costs $25.
8. War Bonds are better than cash.
9. Two persons cannot own a War Bond jointly.
10. The only reason we should buy War Bonds is to help pay for food, ammunition, etc., for the armed forces.

ANSWERS

1. True.
2. True.
3. False. War Bonds are registered in the names of their owners, and lost Bonds can be replaced.
4. True.
5. True. Compare wording on a Bond and a bill.
6. False. Your Bond increases in value after one year. See the values on the back of the Bond. But you get a greater increase in value the longer you hold a Bond, up to $1 at the end of 10 years for every $3 you paid.
7. False. A $25 Bond costs $18.75.
8. True. They can be replaced if lost, they increase in value and they can be converted into cash in case of need.
9. False. War Bonds can be owned by two people as co-owners or as owner and beneficiary.
10. False. Your savings invested in War Bonds will also help to stabilize prices now and to provide for your own security in the future.

Egg Quality

Egg quality will change little in home preservation if the eggs are of good quality to begin with and if the storage conditions are good. Homemakers can assure themselves of a supply of eggs for cooking and baking uses for six to eight weeks after storing. Don't plan to use the stored eggs for poaching or frying because the egg white and yolk will eventually thin out with age and they will not be attractive in appearance.

Cozy Corners

The housewife should clean every crack and corner way in the back of those dark and rarely used clothes closets. In places like these—and beneath heavy pieces of furniture and slip covers—clothes moths and carpet beetles eat and are happy, undisturbed.

Meat Shortage

As with everything else, so with the meat shortage—“There's a reason.”

In fact, there are several reasons, which are listed in some detail in an outline received by the Antioch-Lake Villa Township Rationing board from the Office of Price Administration.

The main reasons are enumerated as follows:

- (A) War demands for meat are heavy.
- (B) Meat supplies are limited.
- (C) Meat distribution is uneven.

With regard to wartime demands, the OPA comments—

“Military requirements are large and must be met. Men in our army and navy get an average of about 5½ pounds of meat a week—226 pounds a year. Many more American civilians are in the market for more meat because their incomes are higher than ever before. Our allies must be assured their minimum meat requirements for full fighting strength. People in liberated countries must not starve.”

Under “supply,” the OPA states that while “In 1944 meat production was 53 percent above the annual average production for the five years before the war... total meat production this year... is less than last... down about nine percent.”

Cattle production is up, says the OPA, but hog production is down, and, it is pointed out, pork and pork products make up about half of America's total meat supply.

“Farmers are taking immediate steps to increase hog production and the production of other meat animals,” is the reassurance given to meat-hungry consumers, BUT “increased hog production will not be available until next winter.”

Civilian meat distribution is admittedly uneven, says the OPA, with some areas having more than their “fair share” of the total meat supply and others less.

Meat from plants without federal inspection can be legally sold only within the state where this meat is processed, it is pointed out, hence the meat-producing states in general tend to have a larger proportionate share. The same tendency toward “congestion of supply” is true with regard to farm slaughter, since nearly all of this meat is either consumed by the farm families themselves or is sold to and consumed by civilians living near the farm where the slaughtering occurs. Since meat supplies for the armed forces and other shipments are drawn from the federally inspected sources, this would also cut into the amount available for shipment to non-meat-producing states.

“The black-market is also responsible to some extent for uneven distribution,” the OPA emphasizes.

Factors which, it is hoped, will bring about a more even distribution are listed by the OPA as the expansion of federal inspection of meat; increasing production goals and production incentives; widespread cooperation on the part of the public to make sure that fair rationing practices are observed. This last requires

“voluntary compliance with price and rationing rules by both buyers and sellers.”

This won't increase the total meat supply available to civilians, the OPA admits, but it “will make for fairer meat distribution.”

To which several million housewives will no doubt utter a hearty “amen!”

Nurse Kenny Visits Illinois

Quite a bit of interest has been focussed lately on Sister Elizabeth Kenny's visit to Illinois in response to an invitation from state leaders who are in favor of a more-widespread knowledge of her famous methods for the treatment of infantile paralysis cases.

Representative Nick Keller of Lake County is the sponsor of her appearance before the Illinois legislature.

The impressive record made by the Kenny Institute in Minneapolis for the treatment of poliomyelitis, of which the Australian nurse is head, has aroused much admiration in this state.

Judged by their results, Nurse Kenny's methods, properly applied, seem to be highly effective in combating disastrous after-effects of the disease which has cast a shadow over the lives of many, and which may have indirectly helped to shorten the life of President Roosevelt.

As has always been the case in connection with new or revolutionary medical practices and discoveries, the medical profession itself is divided in its attitude toward the Kenny method of treatment.

If Sister Kenny's visit to Illinois is indirectly the means of bringing health and relief to any sufferers from infantile paralysis at some time in the near future, the interest taken by Rep. Keller, Governor Dwight Green and the members of the legislature will have served a most commendable purpose.

Do We Deserve Freedom?

“...nothing is more fatal than the present fashion among intellectual leaders of extolling security at the expense of freedom. It is essential that we should relearn frankly to face the fact that freedom can be had only at a price and that as individuals we must be prepared to make severe material sacrifices to preserve our liberty. If we want to retain this, we must regain the conviction on which the rule of liberty in the Anglo-Saxon countries has been based and which Benjamin Franklin expressed in a phrase applicable to us in our lives as individuals no less than as nations: ‘Those who would give up essential liberty to purchase a little temporary safety deserve neither liberty nor safety.’”

“The Road to Serfdom,” by Friedrich A. Hayek.

A Sure Test

Of one thing we can be certain, in spite of the accusations flying back and forth between government officials and food producers—the producers, being in the last analysis mostly independent farmers, will produce as long as there is a shadow of possible profit. When profits cease to exist, they must cease to operate because they do not have the capital to produce merely out of patriotism. Thus, as time goes on and specific items disappear from the market, you may be pretty certain that costs prohibit production. Once the immediate pressure of government purchases is relieved, this will be a sure test.

The committee on fire protection of the village board has much to do. Antioch is increasing in new buildings and should have fire protection. Our experience in past years should teach us that at some day we will have a fire that our "bucket brigade" can't handle. Act, gentlemen, before it is too late.

Roy M. Green Tells a Farm Story

By President Roy M. Green
Colorado A & M College
Fort Collins, Colorado

Big crops and good prices left a wheat farmer not long ago with $90,000 cash in the bank. Said he, "If I don't invest this in inflated land values, what can I do with it to earn anything?" I said to him, "Did you ever think of using part of it to insure yourself a steadier farm income after the war? For $150 a month, or $1,800 a year in War Bonds, you can begin to collect ten years after the war $200 a month. As you will be getting older by that time, wouldn't that be a better supplement to what income the farm then produces than having to turn again to the cream can and what your wife can make out of chickens? Wouldn't it be a nice retirement fund for a fellow that is now 55 years old? Wouldn't you like to have had $200 a month cash coming in last time?"

In addition, if you can put in War Bonds a lump sum as reserve for operation in bad years, for deferred purchases of equipment, for repairs, for up-keep, for new household equipment; and then whatever the postwar adjustment, you would have an easier time of it than you had last time.

You wouldn't have to wait on somebody's extra special plan; you would have already completed one of your own.

If you are proud of the independence of your occupation, and jealous of preserving as much of it as possible, don't orate and speculate—order WAR BONDS!

Library News

A selection of some 50 stories makes up "Time to be Young," edited by Whit Burnett. The book contains Mark Twain's memories of a Missouri farm, Thomas Wolfe's discovery of the world of books, and articles and stories by H. L. Mencken, Saroyan, Clarence Day and many other writers from the past and present. A timeless book, it presents a picture of youth, warm and open-hearted. "Time to be Young" was presented to the Library in memory of Mrs. Gretchen Nelson.

"The Red House" by George Agnew Chamberlain is a swift-paced novel, with deftly-etched characters and a hint of the supernatural. "The Rim," by Francis Sedgwick, might be called a comedy of morals. But it certainly was no comedy to Robert Sufferen, strictly a puritan, when he fell in love.

Two new crime club selections promise a pleasant evening to mystery fans. They are "The Deadly Dove" by Rufus King and "Cats Don't Smile" by D. B. Olsen.

"The Magic Powder" by Earl J. Hadley is the story of cement and our dependence upon it. From the construction of the Panama Canal to the present war, Hadley traces the immense influence cement has had in our progress.

"Fundamentals of Electricity" was compiled to meet the Army's need for pre-induction texts. It is an excellent elementary book on electricity in many fields.

"Bill" Strahan's Third Air Medal Precedes Second

Navy Pilot's Feats in Pacific
Follow in Quick Succession

The distinction of having his third Air medal citation arrive before his second fell to the lot of Lt. William ("Bill") Strahan of Wadsworth, whose accomplishments in sinking one Japanese cargo ship in the harbor at Formosa after another were in such close succession that the recommendation for his third citation beat the second one into the Navy department in Washington.

Lt. Strahan was recently home on leave and is now in New Orleans, La., taking a six weeks' training course as a navy fighter pilot instructor.

His first Air medal was awarded for a number of strikes on airfields and harbors at Bougainville and Munda. Lt. Strahan was at first land-based at Guadalcanal and bombed these enemy positions from a navy Dauntless.

"Harder to Bring Back"

Then he joined one of the big aircraft carriers and made the Formosa attacks. On his last mission over this island he picked up another medal—the Purple Heart.

"That one is easy to get, but a little harder to bring back," he comments. Enemy gunfire hit his Helldiver and a piece of shell fragment was embedded in his shoulder.

"It didn't bother me particularly," he said. "The plane's hydraulic system was knocked out, but that didn't bother me either for 170 miles—I'll get back to the carrier."

"Without hydraulics, I couldn't use the flaps or brakes, so it was pretty fast landing. But the gunner and I walked away from it."

In Philippine Invasion

Lt. Strahan was in on the Philippine invasions and found even better hunting there than at Formosa. In Ormoc bay off Leyte, his carrier was part of the task force that destroyed a Japanese convoy and prevented the landing of reinforcements.

His contribution was a destroyer, one of the warships protecting the enemy troop ships. He has been recommended for the Distinguished Flying cross for this feat.

Lt. Strahan also made raids on Okinawa and the China coast, but "had no trouble." After 30 months of combat duty out of his four years in the navy, he was transferred back to this country to help train other pilots.

His story was recently featured in an article in the famous New Orleans Times-Picayune.

Maritime Day Will be Celebrated on May 22

On Tuesday, May 22, the nation will observe National Maritime Day honoring the more than 215,000 wartime merchant mariners. Only 50,000 of those sailing our merchant ships today were in service at the outbreak of the war. The remained have left peacetime civilian jobs to volunteer for duty with the merchant fleet since the start of the war.

A number of men from this area have been recruited and trained by the U. S. Maritime Service.

One of the last official acts of the late President Roosevelt was the signing of the Maritime day proclamation calling on the people to display flags and pay tribute to the men of the merchant marine on this anniversary.

Based historically on the sailing of the SS SAVANNAH, the first steamship to cross the Atlantic, Maritime Day marks the astronomical delivery job of the Victory Fleet. Each GI who landed on the Normandy beach had 8 to 12 tons of equipment landed with him. In combat the "bridge of ships" has continued to supply him with another two tons of supplies per month.

Eletha N. McBride Dies on Visit to Parents in Indiana

Millburn Woman Passes
Away Suddenly, May 4
at Age of 46

Antioch, Millburn and Waukegan friends of the McBride family were shocked to learn of the sudden death of Mrs. Eletha N. McBride last Thursday in Linton, Ind., where she had gone to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Reynolds.

Mrs. McBride, who was 46, had made her home in this vicinity for the past 25 years.

She is survived by her husband, Claude, with whom she was united in marriage June 3, 1917, at Linton; two daughters, Mrs. Sarah M. Brixen, who has been staying in North Carolina with her husband, Cpl. Earl H. Brixen, stationed at New Bern, and Mrs. Norma M. McCombs, Millburn, and one granddaughter, Shirley Ann McCombs, Millburn.

McBride, a veteran of World War I, is employed at the Johnson Motor plant in Waukegan.

Also surviving besides her parents, are brothers and sisters. Services were held Monday in Indiana, with burial in Fairview cemetery at Linton.

After attending the services for Mrs. McBride, Cpl. and Mrs. Brixen were called here by the death of Cpl. Brixen's grandmother, Mrs. Emma Sage Brixen of Antioch, who passed away Tuesday in Condell Memorial hospital, Libertyville.

Observer ...

During April 122,366 persons received Illinois old age pensions. This number is less than in March, but total April costs were $29,917 higher, due to increased average allotments, which were $31.82, an increase of 34 cents over the previous month. Total cost of April old age assistance was $3,893,579, which included $26,999 for hospital fees.

The Illinois Fire College which the Illinois Firemen's Association had planned to conduct at the University of Illinois, June 5 to 8, will not be held. Cancellation of the meeting is due to failure to obtain authorization from the War Committee on conventions, and marks the first time the college has failed to hold an annual session since it was founded, twenty-one years ago. To make up for this loss, regional schools will be conducted in various parts of Illinois by instructors from the State Fire Marshal's office.

Unless wet weather keeps them out of the fields, Illinois farmers are expected to begin planting corn by the middle or latter part of this week. Now that the corn borer has spread through much of the corn belt, farmers do not plant corn as early as they used to, since a ten-day delay lessens the chances of serious borer infestation.

Farm field work is reported well advanced in the northern part of Illinois, about up to a seasonal average in the central part, and much delayed in the southern counties because of excessive rainfall. Flooding of bottom lands has caused damage to wheat in southern Illinois. Pastures throughout the state are in good condition.

Tomorrow's Kitchen

Postwar kitchens will have less of a "laboratory" effect and be more "homey" as well as more convenient, it is predicted. Top shelves which will be easy to reach, definite places for a radio, a table and a comfortable chair, larger windows and a wider range of wall colors are among the predicted postwar kitchen features. The combination is expected to give an effect of spaciousness and greater floor space to kitchens which actually may be quite limited in area.

My Portion Is Good

A time when the thought of the world is largely occupied with the rationing of commodities, with shortages and anticipated shortages, it is calming and helpful to contemplate the words of the prophet (Lamentations 3:24), "The Lord is my portion, saith my soul; therefore will I hope in him." No thinking Christian believes in or anticipates a shortage of infinite Love, nor does he expect to have difficulty in getting his portion, or fear that his portion will be less than normal and perhaps insufficient. Infinite Spirit does not limit man. God gives good sufficient for every need.

Christ Jesus realized that plenty is normal and natural, the effect of God's law, understood. He demonstrated abundance in the midst of lack, as we see in the incident of the loaves and fishes. If he had looked at the few loaves and small fishes as the source of supply, he would have faced a problem incapable of solution. Apparently there was not enough food at hand even for a limited few. But the Master knew that supply is spiritual, and that abundance can be demonstrated in human experience through understanding the spiritual nature of supply. Jesus therefore demonstrated plenty for all concerned. Likewise today, one who understands the affluence of divine Love cannot lack what is humanly needful for his own well-being and for the comfort and welfare of those dependent upon him.

Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, gives this comforting message in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" (p. 442): "Christ, Truth, gives mortals temporary food and clothing until the material, transformed with the ideal, disappears, and man is clothed and fed spiritually." Again she writes (ibid., p. 494), "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need." These words have been a source of inspiration and comfort to thousands the world over, and they continue to bless, to heal, and to free from limitation of every kind. Divine Love does not leave us to struggle with fear, doubt, and insufficiency. In spite of material evidence to the contrary, we can prove that what is really necessary for our happiness and well-being is at hand. . . .

Generosity and faith will never be limited, nor will intelligence, a quality of infinite Mind. Intelligence is not dependent on material conditions. We have all the intelligence we claim and permit to permeate our daily affairs. The more we use, the more we express. It is the same with every quality of God. . . .

There is plenty of truth for everyone, and the understanding of infinite Truth brings freedom. Jesus said (John 8:32), "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." Truth understood and practiced always ends bondage. The operation of Truth in daily affairs is as simple as the use of a mathematical fact. Since two and two equals four, the answer cannot be five, and the truth destroys the mistake and one's belief in the mistake. Man as God made him, perfect and unlimited, cannot be in bondage and suffer lack." . . . — The Christian Science Monitor.

Psi Lambda Tau sorority at Central High School.

The Misses Gilda and Thelma Klevit announced that parents who'd like a night out, but are held home-bound by baby's needs, now may break their shackles in the easiest possible fashion—by purchasing a War Bond from one of a group of 20 sorority girls.

Graduated now, the Sisters Klevit have kept up their contact with their friends, and when not tending baby are Federal workers. They'll take care of baby if pop and mom will buy a War Bond.

The sisters said that during previous loans other sororities and some fraternities shoveled ashes, cleaned cellars and did other household chores in return for War Bond purchases and they suggest their plan be carried out nationally.

Gains Favor

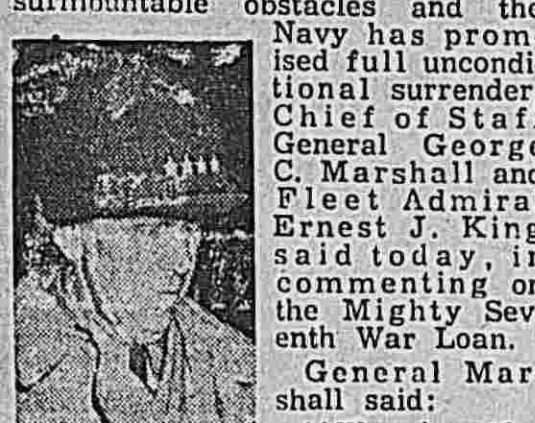

Another vegetable that is rapidly gaining favor with home gardeners is the soybean. Early varieties require no more space than snap beans and may well be considered for trial. Planting dates and culture are the same as for other beans. Soybeans are a good source of protein and are already popular with many families throughout the country.

Penicillin Production

It is estimated that the average production cost of penicillin has dropped in one year from $7,000 per half ounce to about $7,000 per pound.

Marshall, King Pledge Victory to 'Bond Front'

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The Army has overcome what in the past would have seemed to have been insurmountable obstacles and the Navy has promised full unconditional surrender. Chief of Staff General George C. Marshall and Fleet Admiral Ernest J. King said today, in commenting on the Mighty Seventh War Loan.

General Marshall said:

"We in the Army have overcome what in the past would have seemed to have been insurmountable obstacles. So have you. That is where the enemy miscalculated—for to Americans, nothing has ever been impossible. Yours is a hard task—a heavy responsibility. But we of the Army have confidence that you will again achieve the impossible."

Admiral King said:

"We have had two wars to wage. One of those wars is just beginning. That means that your own labors, far from over, are also just beginning. The Navy, like the Army, has one objective. The unconditional surrender of the enemy. We will attain that objective because of people of good faith. People who have demonstrated their patriotism and their willingness to undertake the most gigantic financial task ever undertaken by a free people."

Roosevelt's Appeal

for 7th War Loan

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Before his death President Franklin D. Roosevelt issued a statement in support of the 7th War Loan for 14 billions of dollars in which he reminds the Nation it is still locked in a deadly struggle with its enemies.

The President stressed the importance of greater production together with the buying and holding of War Bonds to help achieve the victory. He said:

"I don't need to tell you that we are still locked in a deadly struggle with our enemies—the enemies of our way of life—and the war is still the chief job of each one of us. The greatest production of which we are capable, faithful adherence to regulations that make it possible to supply our boys in battle with everything they need, and buying and holding War Bonds—these are things we at home must do to speed victory."

"In the past three years more than 85 millions of Americans have invested billions of dollars in bonds. Never before have so many people held such a direct share in a great national effort. To save—to buy and to hold all we can of war bonds—this is a small service to ask of us who do not fight—yet it is one of the biggest things we can do for our fighting men."

Small Margin

Earnings smaller than in any other major manufacturing industry were reported for the meat packing industry in estimates made public by the American Meat Institute. The industry obtained, after taxes, a net income of but 1.1 per cent on sales during 1943; the figure including income derived from investments and other sources as well as straight sales.

Wool Blankets

Remember that wool blankets can't stand heat over 100 degrees Fahrenheit, harsh soap and wringing. Hot water causes wool fibers to shrink and stiffen. Soaps containing too much alkali will harden and ultimately destroy the fiber.

STRAIGHT TALK

ABOUT THE 7th WAR LOAN

THE 7th WAR LOAN

starts May 14. Americans, as individuals, are taking on their biggest quota to date—7 billion dollars, 4 billions in E Bonds alone.

You may be wondering, "Why this biggest of all individual quotas now? Haven't we already reached the peak?"

A fair question—requiring a straight answer.

The Money Is Needed for War

The Battle of Japan has just begun. It must be backed up, paid for, fought for by a free people, intent on sweeping the Pacific clear of fascist hate—forever.

With the war in the West our first and major concern, we have not yet been able to go all-out in the East. But neither has the Jap.

The war to crush Japan will be bigger, tougher, and longer than most Americans expect. The Allied Military Command has estimated that it will take years, not months.

The destruction of Japan's armies has not yet reached the annual rate of normal replacements—between 200,000 and 250,000 men a year. And the Jap, as our men in the Pacific know, fights to the death.

As far as Japan is concerned, the outer Empire—and the men who defend it—are expendables. The Jap will fight the Battle of Japan from inside the inner Empire, of which Iwo Jima was an outpost. And Iwo Jima, according to Admiral Nimitz, was a pattern of the resistance our forces may expect to meet in future offensives.

New Tasks, New Deeds

The single greatest obstacle to our crushing of Japan is distance. While in the Battle of Europe supply ships from our bases in England had only an overnight run to make, ships in the Pacific have long-reach round trips taking up to 5 months to make.

To crush Japan will take time, heroic and back-breaking effort, overpowering equipment.

Millions of fighting men—freshly outfitted and equipped—will have to be moved from Europe halfway around the globe; and supplied day-in, day-out by hundreds of new ships now building.

More of everything will be needed. More B-29's. More tanks, half-tracks, jeeps and trucks. More rockets, mortars, airborne radar.

A whole new air force is in creation—huge new bombers dwarfing the Superfortress—fast new jet-propelled combat planes, the P-80 or "Shooting Star," coming off the lines by thousands.

These are just some of the 101 ways in which your dollars are needed more than ever to bring America's might to its full strength—so that we may crush our foe the faster, make an end of killing, and bring our men back home.

And Lest We Forget

The sick, wounded and disabled will require medical attention and care.

Many millions of dollars will be required for mustering-out pay and benefits voted by Congress to help our veterans get started again in civilian life.

That's the least we can do in return for what they've done for us.

Winning the Peace

There are other weighty reasons for supporting the 7th War Loan—reasons that take us from the present to the future.

By investing in the 7th War Loan, the patriotic American is safeguarding his own future, his country's future.

By putting every dollar over rock-bottom expenses into the purchase of War Bonds, he is delivering a body blow to wartime inflation—thus putting a lid on the cost of living and maintaining intact the purchasing power of the dollar. At the same time, too, he is insuring the country and himself against the catastrophe of a possible postwar deflation—with its depression, unemployment, misery and heartache.

So save for your country—save for yourself. In helping your country, you are also helping yourself! Come peace, we'll all need money for education, replacements, retirement, new homes, a new start—and we'll need a lot of it. And there isn't a better or safer high-road to your goal than United States Savings Bonds.

Making 2=3

This year there will be only two War Loan Drives, not three. But in those two drives the Government will have to raise almost as much money from individuals as in the three drives last year. That means bigger extra bonds in the 7th. Because only by buying more can we make 2 take the place of 3.

The 26 million Americans who buy bonds on payroll savings are already off to a flying start! These patriotic men and women began their buying in April. And they will keep on buying extra bonds through May and June!

It's now up to the rest of us. It's our turn to swing in line. To raise the vast sum needed, every American will have to dig deeper into current income—dig deeper into cash reserves. Only by buying bigger extra bonds can we stretch 2 into 3!

Let all Americans do their part—for their own sake, for their country's.

If you have an income—whether from work, land or capital—you have a quota in the 7th War Loan. Find out what that quota is—and make it!

FIND YOUR QUOTA . . . AND MAKE IT!

Farmers Plan Greater Buys In War Bonds

In spite of an "off" season so far as income is concerned, farm War Bond leaders are now making preparations for selling more bonds to farmers during the Seventh War Loan than in any previous drive, according to M. L. Predmore, Chief of the Agricultural Section, War Finance Division, Treasury Department. With the help of country bankers they're out to convince the men who till the soil that they should convert their expanded bank accounts into bonds.

"Farmers, like all Americans, have been building up bank deposits and currency holdings ever since the war started," Predmore said. "On January 1, 1920, agriculture held currency and bank deposits totaling slightly over 4 billion dollars. The 1940 figure is not available, but it is expected to be in excess of 10 billion."

With larger operations and increased costs farmers must have more operating capital than in 1940, but they don't need 10 billion, in Predmore's opinion. He believes farmers can and will put a substantial portion of these cash reserves into War Bonds.

When they go out to sell War Bonds to farmers in the Seventh, War Finance Committees throughout the nation will stress personal solicitation. A survey made following the Sixth War Loan showed that 57 percent of the farmers who were personally solicited bought bonds.

course for accepted applicants. This course is given at government expense. Upon completion of the course the trainees will be assigned to one of the new Diesel vessels. Uniforms will be supplied at no cost to the men. In addition to the base pay rates, men receive voyage bonuses. For every man sailing on an American flag vessel, the War Shipping Administration provides, automatically and without cost, $5000 war risk insurance. Additional insurance can be purchased up to the amount of $15,000 at the rate of fifty cents per month per $1000.

At the time articles are signed the seaman can make provisions for allotment payment to be made to certain close relatives. Reemployment rights of seamen are provided by act of Congress.

The need for men qualified to sail as Diesel engineers is urgent. The War Shipping administration asks these men to contact their local U. S. Employment offices without delay; or wire, or write to the Recruitment and Manning Organization, 844 North Rush Street, Chicago, for further details.

Applications from men employed on lake vessels will not be accepted.

 "Sergeant Doyle, as communications chief, worked continuously, averaging only four hours' sleep a day, in order that the communications of his troop and higher echelons would not be disrupted by a mechanical failure. Despite adverse weather conditions, he visited each troop vehicle containing a radio, and personally insured the proper functioning of the radio. Sgt.
